Lawrenson's House Is Levelled In Early Morning Blaze

At 3:45 a.m. on Monday morning, September 21st., Mr. Alton Duncan, a next door neighbour sounded the alarm that Mr. Raymond Lawrenson's house was on fire. Within minutes the Minden Volunteer Fire Department was on the scene, but the frame house was a complete blaze.

Raymond Lawrenson and his wife Eleanor, the only occupants of the dwelling, were forced from the house by the fire. Mrs. Lawrenson managed to escape without injury, through an upstairs window, but was taken to the Minden Red Cross Hospital because of shock, she was released the next day. Mr. Lawrenson received severe burns on arms and hands, second degree burns on chest and first degree burns on his face, according to Police. He was taken to Minden Red Cross Hospital, then was immediately sent on to the Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay.

The Lawrenson's two children were not in the house at the time of the blaze, but were staying with their grandmother.

The cause of the fire has not yet been determined. Fire Chief Eldon Deacon reported that 14 firemen answered the call, and it took them until seven in the morning to get the blaze completely under control.

The investigating O.P.P. Officer Ron Buchanan who was called to the scene, reported that the fire department did an excellent job in containing the fire to the one house, since neighbouring homes are very close.

Fire Chief Eldon Deacon reported that the home was covered with insurance, but added that everything was a complete loss.

President of the Rotary Club, Paul Muller, said that anyone wishing to donate money in aid of the Lawrenson family, may do so by sending their cheques in care of the Minden Rotary Club.

with Fenwick Finch

Gad, how the time flies — another week gone by. First of all since I've mentioned South Lake Lodge and the good food I've had it drawn to my attention that, while I may have said the food was good it is quite a problem to get to taste it — going out cold and just trying to eat is not the answer, apparently you should phone ahead and find out if they can serve you.

To give this next item a bit of the Mackenzie Porter touch and do a "little name-dropping" which is supposed to help the prestige of the writer I offer this — my wife and I had lunch with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis of "Front Page Challenge Fame" of course Mr. and Mrs. Davis were at the further end of the restaurant, but, we ate in the same room.

By the same token I once held a restaurant door open while "Scott Young" made his way into the interior. Back in 1933 at Shediac N.S. I gave Gen. Italia Balboa a hand onto the dock as he left his aircraft.

I have also spoken over the telephone to Sean Eyere of the "wired Woodshed" fame of CHEX — in spite of all this I still remain modest and unassuming.

Got another couple of clips from G. and E. F. taken from Talbert's Detroit a column in the Detroit Free Press.

Here's one of his "graffito" If your nose runs and your feet smell, You're built upside down."

"Our jobs are safe — no machine would work under these conditions."

There are quite a few more goodies, but, I'll dole them out to you later,

I understand that Tom Farmer has again started the writing groups at the Haliburton School of Fine Arts. Get in touch with Tom at the local Lands and forests office and he'll fill you in.

Just going through some mail and found a season's greeting card from my old sparring partner — Mrs. J. Matalas. Haven't heard from her for ages — I'm almost fully recovered, health-wise so she doesn't need to hold off, it would be nice to hear from her — there must be plenty stored up and ready to be administered.

Further to the mention of "flags" last week I see that Floyd Hall has a brand, spanking new flag flying — maybe others will follow his lead.

The Lawranson fire of last Monday morning points up the skill and dedication of the local fire brigade — they were quick to answer the alarm and stuck with the fire until it was controlled.

Volunteer fire brigades are always subject to good-natured banter but, when the chips are down you can really see their value. Chief Eldon Deacon and his men deserve a great deal of credit in the way this fire was contained and other properties protected.

While on the subject of the fire department — the handling of ambulance calls by the Department is another field in which they deserve credit. Prompt answering of calls and skilled efficient drivers do much to save lives that might otherwise be lost.

That's another week — drive carefully, so that you may be around to enjoy the many things in life that are offered.

HOW TO BE HAPPY

Rules Attributed to Robert Louis Stevenson

As children, one of the first names of poets and writers we learned to know and love was that of Robert Louis Stevenson. He had the ability to enter into a child's world with such poems as those contained in "A Child's Garden of Verse", and his book "Treasure Island."

It would refresh our spirits to re-read some of his writings which so well communicate his love of life and laughter. For, in spite of chronic ill-health, R.L.S. was an essentially happy man. People from all walks of life were attracted by the magnetism of his personality.

He it was who wrote:
The world is so full of a number of things,
I am sure we should all be as happy as kings.

He believed "there is no duty we under-rate more than the duty of being happy."

The following twelve rules, on how to be happy, are attributed to him and are well worth noting:

1. Make up your mind to be happy. Learn to find pleasure in simple things.
2. Make the best of your circumstances. No one has everything and everyone has something of sorrow intermingled with the gladness of life. The trick is to make laughter outweigh the tears.
3. Don't take yourself too seriously. Don't think that somehow you should be protected from misfortunes that befall other people.
4. You can't please everybody. Don't let criticism worry you.
5. Don't let your neighbour set your standards. Be yourself.
6. Do the things you enjoy doing, but stay out of debt.
7. Don't borrow trouble. Imaginary things are harder to bear than actual ones.
8. Since hate poisons the soul, do not cherish enmities and grudges.
9. Have many interests. If you can't travel, read about new places.
10. Don't hold post-mortems. Don't spend your life brooding over sorrow or mistakes. Don't be one who never gets over things.
11. Do what you can for those less fortunate than yourself.
12. Keep busy at something. A very busy person never has time to be unhappy.

Ronny's disposition is reflected in his picture. This little boy is 20 months old, a most appealing laddie of Anglo-Saxon origin. A healthy young fellow, he has big, expressive brown eyes, light brown hair and fair skin. Young as he is, Ronny has a good vocabulary and understands even more than he can say. Just ask him to bring anything, from a cup to a pair of slippers, and he's away to the proper cupboard to bring back the wanted article. Ronny is a bright, affectionate child who loves attention. He needs a relaxed, loving family, preferably with other children. To inquire about adopting Ronny please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. FALL COURSES

Every Fall the Haliburton School of Fine Arts presents their annual Fall Courses, they are again offering these Courses and have engaged outstanding instructors to teach and assist those interested.

Three of the instructors, Mrs. Alice Rycroft, John Barras Walker and Gordon Peters have previously conducted very successful courses for the Haliburton School of Fine Arts. Miss Ann Suzuki, although new to the School, is recognized as one of the foremost batik artists in Ontario and is well known in this area through having exhibited in the local Gallery, with the Artisan's Guild of Hamilton.

The courses will be held at Wig-A-Mog Inn, a very attractive spot on North Kashagawigamog Road, eleven miles east of Minden on Highway 121 and five miles south of Haliburton Village. Anyone taking the course will have complete resort facilities at the Inn.

It is not too late to get in on this weekends activities — September 26 and 27, introduction to Tie Dye and Batik with Ann Suzuki and Arts and Crafts Education Workshop with Mrs. Alice Rycroft. The following weekend, October 3 and 4 the School offers Photography with John Barras Walker and Painting with Gordon Peters.

The introductory tie dye and batik course will expose the students to the basic principles involved in both of these crafts. Batik is an ancient craft in which areas of cloth are impregnated with wax to form a design, the unwaxed parts accepting the dye, the waxed parts rejecting it. Additional waxing and dying can be applied as desired.

The arts and crafts education program is designed to provide a practical workshop for teachers and other students of art education. The workshop will include picture making through the grades printmaking, modelling materials, tie and dye to batik and basic ceramics and glass craft.

The Photography course is designed for students of diverse interests varying from the beginner to the very experienced. The course will consist of a weekend of instruction and field work in the photography of autumn with particular attention to colour harmony and selective vision that take photography of fall colours beyond the more conventional vistas into creative colour shooting.

The painting course is designed for students to use the medium of their choice — oils, aquarelle, acrylics, etc. Each student, beginner or more advanced will receive individual professional instruction and guidance designed to meet his or her specific technical and artistic problems. There will be as much practical application out of doors as possible.

What better place to take these above courses than the Highlands of Haliburton — with all its beauty at this time of the year. These courses promise to not only be educational but enjoyable as well. For further information call the Haliburton School of Fine Arts, 457-1680.

Evidence to the contrary, Canada's toughest drama critic, Nathan Cohen, does have his likes as well as dislikes. He's selected a series of plays by 11 leading 20th century novelists (writers whose works are not generally associated with the stage) for broadcast on CBC Tuesday Night at 8:03 p.m. local time. Cohen feels that the plays, by such people as Hemingway, Naboko, Mailer and Lawrence, are of interest both in themselves and because of the authors. Cohen himself introduces each play. The treasurer Mrs. Kernohan gave a good report of the Bake Sale and collection of the day was taken along with Pennies for Friendship and birthday money.

The members are very appreciative of the attractive programs made by Mrs. F. Buttmore; our thanks go to her.

The president also noted the driftwood article given by Mrs. Alec Taylor and the knife rack given by Arnold Coulter; these are our donation to the plowing match.

We have no delegate chosen for the area Convention but the Secretary is to write for rooms so that we may send someone.

The draw was made for the hand knit afghan given by Mrs. Clarke with winner being Mrs. Hugh Kernohan.

The Curator brought to our attention the rollcall dealing with family histories, with a snapshot if possible, this is to be given at the October meeting which will be at the home of Mrs. L. Cox.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem and W. I. Grace and all enjoyed the delicious buffet luncheon served by the hostess.

KINMOUNT UCW HELD MEETING

The U.C.W. met at the home of Mrs. Percy Sherman on Tuesday, afternoon with 11 members present. Mrs. M. McKay opened the meeting.

The hymn, "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee" was sung, and a psalm was read in unison.

Mrs. M. McKay's talk was on the Toronto city mission telling principally about the home visitations and material needs of the family as her sister, Mrs. E. Emmerson, experienced it.

The offering was dedicated by Mrs. P. Sherman.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT REPORT

The trend of communicable diseases continues downward. Efforts are being put forth to reduce the frequency of contagious diseases from their already low levels in the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge Health District. Although the major killers have long since been practically eliminated, there is room for improvement in several diseases. These constitute some of the so-called "childhood diseases". They are childhood diseases only because they occur most frequently in childhood and are less severe in children, but being transmitted largely in schools, they may spread to other family members. They are more serious diseases when they affect adults and infants. With the reopening of schools, your Health Unit will be renewing efforts to reduce these diseases. A practical approach to several of them is discussed here.

German measles is a mild disease in itself. Its importance lies in its ability to cause deformity in the unborn child of infected mothers, especially during the first three months of pregnancy. A recently perfected vaccine was first offered in the schools in May and June of this year. The second round of vaccination will be given early in the new school year. By that time all pupils in grades 1 to 4 inclusive will have been offered the vaccine. New pupils in grades 1 to 4, and those who were missed in June may ask for the vaccine as well. In subsequent years, by offering the vaccine to all pupils in Grade 1, it is hoped to build up a group of young people who are immune to the disease and cannot transmit it to one another or to their families. Meanwhile, older children and adults who desire the vaccine may contact their family doctor.

Measles (red measles) is important because of frequent ear and throat complications. Although cases of measles are still being reported in the district, they could be largely eliminated through the use of vaccine. Good measles vaccine has been available for several years and has been incorporated into the routine vaccinations of children.

Infectious hepatitis (yellow jaundice) continues to occur with moderate frequency throughout the province, and this district. There is no vaccine which gives permanent prevention and certain peculiarities facilitate the spread in classrooms and families. Hepatitis frequently occurs as a "stomach flu", without causing jaundice or yellowness. Such a person may, nevertheless, spread his disease to others. There are several measures which would help to prevent spread. Anyone with an upset stomach should avoid contact with other people until his family doctor assures him it is not contagious. Children should be discouraged from putting into their mouths pencils and other articles which have been in contact with other people. Eating and drinking vessels should not be shared. Strict attention should be paid to personal cleanliness, including washing hands after use of the toilet. School authorities and rural householders may check with health unit staff to see that their water supply is safe, and sanitary facilities are functioning adequately. Adequate fly control in the house is also important. Finally, an injection of gamma globulin usually gives protection to people who have had contact with someone with hepatitis, if given within ten days of contact.

Mumps continue to occur frequently. It is more severe in people past adolescence in whom complications sometimes occur. An effective vaccine has been developed and may be requested through the family doctor.

These diseases can be controlled through the coordinated efforts of the health unit, family doctors, school authorities and families. The health unit staff is ready to supply further information to anyone who requests it.

On Saturday, August 22nd., 1970, in the Minden United Church, the wedding of Bonnie-Lee Prentice and Stephen Donal Berry took place, with Rev. Noel McNeill officiating at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Prentice of Minden, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donal Berry of Minden.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor length gown of polyester crepe, trimmed with lace at the neckline, at the cuffs of the full sleeves, and along the edges of the panier front. Her train length veil was held in place by a Juliet cap of matching lace. She carried a single white cataleya orchid on a background of green fern and velvet ribbon.

Mrs. Tom Corbett of Wilberforce was her matron-of-honour and wore a gown of rose pink sheer and taffeta with full sleeves and a rose pink cumberbund. She carried a white basket of gladioli and snapdragons. The bride's two bridesmaids were Miss Donna Berry, sister of the groom, and Miss Beverley-Anne Prentice, sister of the bride. They were dressed in gowns identical to that of the matron-of-honour, but in a medium pink shade. The flower girl was Miss Tammy-Jean Prentice, sister of the bride. She wore a white gown, identical in style to the bridesmaid's, with a rose pink cumberbund. The bridesmaids and flower girl also carried white baskets of flowers.

Mr. Peter Devitt of Ottawa, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man. Mr. Paul Prentice, brother of the bride, and Mr. Tom Corbett of Wilberforce were ushers.

For the reception at Hart Lodge, the bride's mother received, wearing a pink shantung silk ensemble with accessories of white and corsage of red roses. The groom's mother assisted, wearing a pale green shantung silk dress with accessories of white and corsage of pink roses. Mr. Don Sedgewick of Newmarket proposed the toasts.

Leaving for a honeymoon to Prince Edward Island, the bride wore a yellow pant suit with white accessories and a corsage of white daisies. The bride and groom will be living at Lutterworth Pines, Minden.

KINETTE HI-LITES

On Tuesday, September 8th the Kinette Club of Minden met together to begin a new year of service and fellowship.

President Peggy Brown ably chaired the meeting at which members showed a willingness to lend a helping hand to make 1970-71 a successful year in Kin.

Now that last year's funds have been dispensed to Cystic Fibrosis Research, Mental Retardation Training Centre and the Kinsmen's Welfare Fund the purse is in need of replenishing. Consequently, the first of many projects will be held in the form of a Rummage Sale on Saturday, October 17th, at the Minden Arena. Anyone wishing to donate good, used clothing, please contact the Sale Convenor, Mrs. Vicky Garbutt, or any Kinette. Your assistance will be much appreciated.

The members continue to support their Kinsmen by helping with the Bingo held at Hyland Crest every Thursday evening. This project is a very real source of pleasure for both the residents and the volunteers who participate.

October 13th will be Kinette Guest Night, when each Kinette may bring a guest of her choice, as well as any prospective members. The guest speaker for the evening will be Miss Helen Gurney, Health and Physical Education Consultant, from the Ontario Department of Education. Miss Gurney has spent a good deal of time working in connection with the drug problem, with school boards in the Metro area and the Drug and Rehabilitation Centre. We are indeed fortunate to have a person, so knowledgeable regarding this disturbing and often misunderstood subject, take time from her busy schedule to visit us.

What would you do if you were faced with a drug problem in your home? Hopefully, Miss Gurney can help the mothers in the Kinette Club take a sensible look at this unsettling question.

Good luck to Kinette President Peggy and Kinsmen President Ron Fennell. May they and their Clubs have a successful year, serving "The Communities Greatest Needs".

First Rural School For Retarded Children

Citizens of Haliburton County: How good are your memories? Can you remember as far back as 1961 when we first woke up to the fact that mentally retarded children could be helped and you rallied together and made it possible to open the First Rural School for mentally retarded children in Ontario? We have been told by those in higher authority that it couldn't be done — and you did it!

Do you remember the happy times we had earning the money necessary to run that school? We rented and furnished a building, paid teachers' salaries, bought supplies, provided transportation for the children, etc., etc. We had Penny Sales, Rummage Sales, Bazaars, Teas, Raffles, Canvases, and received many individual donations and a few legacies. And you must remember the dinner at the new Legion Hall on May 1, 1961, the first dinner to be held there. You furnished the food and approximately 250 of you partook of the delicious meal while several of our faithful members were miraculously overcoming the many handicaps of the situation in the kitchen. Wasn't it wonderful to see the High School students showing their interest by waiting on the tables! And we were all so inspired by the address of Dr. Koegler from the Childrens' Psychiatric Research Institute at London.

Do you remember what wonderful response these same High School students used to get when they canvassed the whole County for funds to carry on this work with the Retarded in our county? You all contributed so very generously.

Do you ever wonder what has become of all those mentally retarded children that you were so interested in during the early 1960's? Well, they are still with us — but 8 years older than when you gave them their first opportunity to enjoy a life of dignity such as that school would provide. The Government has gradually assumed the responsibilities of training these children — until they reach the age of 18 — and that's all. These young people will never be able to live completely independent lives, will never be capable of earning a living; but they are capable of being profitably employed if under constant supervision. That is why we must still, as a community, be responsible for them.

Not only are there adult mentally retarded who need this service, but there are many other people over 18 years of age who are handicapped in other ways which prevent them from earning a living. They, too, are our responsibility.

Last year the Haliburton and District Association for the Mentally Retarded set up a Sheltered Workshop for these handicapped people (both mentally and otherwise). It is an Adult Rehabilitation Centre, better known as A.R.C. Industries. You no doubt have read about it and seen displays of the work done by the trainees at various bazaars, etc., or visited the Workshop when they held Open House. It would do your heart good to see the happy atmosphere that prevails there, and the things they make would certainly surprise you. Isn't that much better than having them walk the streets and getting into trouble?

The Cost: This service was started in March, 1969 and has been carried on in the same manner as the school project in 1960 — with absolutely no help from the Government so far. To date the Haliburton and District Association for the Mentally Retarded has spent over $7,000 on this project. Is it worth it? Of course it is. But we need your help.

If you know of anyone you think should be attending, or might be interested, please contact one of the executive. The hours are short and there is no age limit above 16.

Nick Nimigon, Haliburton; Wilf Jarvis, R R 2 Minden; Mrs. M. Jones R R 1 Haliburton; Gerald Dawson, Haliburton; Mrs. R. nAderson, Jr. Tory Hill; Mrs. A. D. Miller, Wilberforce.

Dear Mr. Martin:

My husband is going to be transferred to another city soon for about two or three years. We don't want to have to move into an apartment and are wondering if we should buy a home. Is it wise to buy a home when you know you'll be living in it only a short time?

Mrs. B.M.K.

Dear Mrs. B.M.K.:

Generally speaking, a home owner stands to lose money if a home is sold after just a year or two - but there are exceptions. With the proper planning you can live in your own home for this two to three year period and be able to sell without taking a loss on the transaction.

When looking for your new temporary home, you must consider many things in a different light than you would for a more permanent home. For instance avoid buying a new home which requires finishing work, landscaping, carpeting, and so on. Try for a home in an established and settled area where you can move in and not have to "try" for a home in an establishment - spend a lot of money to get settled.

You must always be thinking of a potential home's resale value, of course. You may have to pick an area that is not the most convenient for your particular needs - that is, try to select a house near major employment locations and near schools and shopping areas. This may not be the best location for you but it will make the home easier to sell when the time comes. Also, buy a house of average value, a house within a medium price range. This will also make it easier to sell.

Be careful about financing, too. Try to put only a minimum down payment and carry a large balance on your home. During your few years of ownership, you'll be paying practically pure interest on your loan but once again, the high loan balance will make the house easier to sell. A new owner can more easily step in and assume your balance and payments without putting up a large amount of cash.

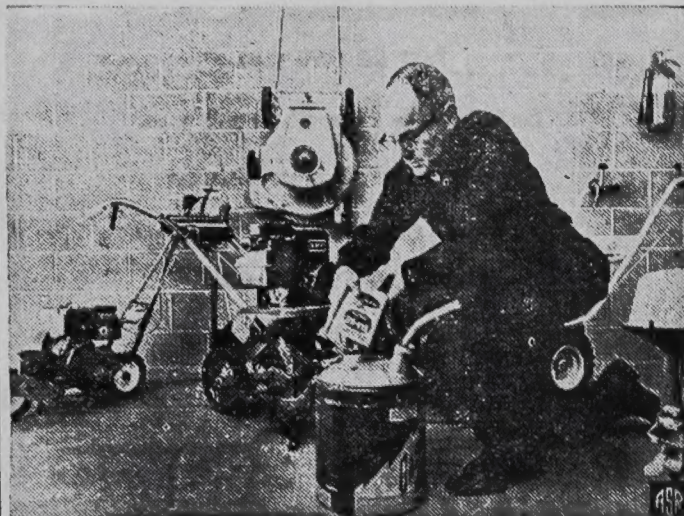

These are just a few hints at how you can help avoid losing money on a fast sale of your new home. With proper planning and care when you buy, you should be able to enjoy the advantages of living in your own home, and sell easily and quickly without taking a loss. You may even end up a winner.

Do's And Don'ts For Power Tools

Making sure that all his gasoline power equipment starts next year. A new development, called Sta-Bil, keeps gum deposits from clogging engine fuel lines.

Power tools are great conveniences and labor savers, but they do require periodic inspection and care. A bit of preventive maintenance on your lawn mower and other gasoline powered equipment, for example, will go a long way toward making sure the equipment is ready for use when you need it.

One problem with gasoline powered tools has always been the gum deposits which form in fuel lines when engines are not in use. Such formations can prevent engines from starting and lead to expensive carburetor and engine overhauls.

Scientists at Knox Laboratories in Chicago, a research company, studied the problem. They came up with a solution, called Sta-Bil, which prevents gum deposits from forming. The new chemical development when added to fuel, also eliminates the need to drain gasoline before storing power equipment at the end of the season.

Here are some other tips for keeping tools in shape: equipment should always be kept clean and stored in a dry place to prevent rust damage. Be sure to oil tools and motors, if recommended by manufacturer.

Tools well cared for will last a long time, be safe and a pleasure to use.

For additional information, write Knox Laboratories, 2335 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60616.

CBC radio drama producer John Reeves is in Florence, where he is sitting on the jury for the 1970 Italia Prize, the most prestigious international award in broadcasting. The prize first awarded in 1948, was restricted to radio, then later included TV as well. This year the CBC has submitted two entries: The Coming of The Wild Flowers by W. H. S. Boston, produced by Fred Diehl in Calgary, in the drama category, and a French network production in the music category. Reeves, who won the award himself a few years back with his production of A Beach of Strangers, is on the jury for the documentary category, so he won't be asked to judge one of the CBC entries, which is only fair. While there, Reeves hopes to pick up the rights for some European plays which he can later produce for radio.

On CBC Metronome, September 26, co-host Alan Millar will feature an interview with Milan Kymlicka, a young Czechoslovak composer newly resident in Canada, who's written the score for a new Canadian feature film, The Last Act of Martin Weston. Kymlicka also does arrangements for radio's Sunday Continental Holiday series. Incidentally, Millar and Kymlicka have collaborated on a new children's musical, Upsy-Downsy Land, for the Toronto Young People's Theatre. It opens at the St. Lawrence Centre this fall.

It's been 17 years since the last major Hemingway novel appeared on the bookstands. And though it's been nine years since his death, his newest and seventh novel will be published October 6, edited by Charles Scribner, of the New York Publishing House, and the author's fourth and last wife, Mary Welsh Hemingway. Last spring radio listeners were treated to a preview of the novel, Islands in the Stream, on a program called Hemingway, in which the author read fragments from his work. That much-acclaimed program is to be repeated October 6 on CBC Tuesday Night, to coincide with the publication date. Also timely is the scheduling of Cohen's Choice on September 29, a production of Hemingway's only play, The Fifth Column.
